hello planes

In the park, the sky is bright but the ground is dark.

As I watch the sunset
I see two long vapour trails and all over the sky

I notice more of them.

I Fumble with my camera to try and capture them but they are faint and evaporate after a few minutes

& my photos are blurry and unfocussed.

In London, there is always a plane rumbling overhead but there are also birds and heading home, I spy a bird's nest

and I wondered:
do planes have nests?
